

Stresses United China Of Future

Chinese Communist Party Will Be Recognized Shortly, Chiang Kai-Shek Says

CHUNGKING, March 2.—(INS)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek announced that the Chinese Communist party would be recognized by the government as soon as it agrees to incorporate its army and local administration in the national army and government.

Addressing the opening session of the preparatory commission for the inauguration of constitutional government, Chiang said that all Chinese political parties would have legal status and equality when constitutional government is inaugurated.

Need United Front
He said the national assembly to inaugurate constitutional government would convene Nov. 12. The offer to the Communist party to incorporate itself into the national army and government "still stands," Chiang said. He declared that China must emerge from the war as a united nation.

"Only a united nation," he said, "can effectively perform the tasks of political and economic reconstruction, to raise the lot of our toiling masses and handle the problems of external relations in the new, uncharted world."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

and can give me some advice. A stamped addressed envelope is enclosed.

The Psychologist's Reply
I answered somewhat as follows: I think I understand you better than you understand yourself and can give you some advice but I am not sure you will choose to follow it. It's your baby, of course.

There is no proof in what you write that it is fear, in the ordinary sense, that causes your baby to want you to stay with her. Indeed, at her age such fears as a child two, three or four may have, hardly exist.

You see, that baby is developing. Your nearness to her and ministries to her mean far more now than they meant a few weeks or months ago. Your pats and tender presence give her satisfaction. Any stir or sound indicating to her the probable loss of such satisfaction naturally displeases her, which emotion weakens her.

Perhaps you are not convinced by my analysis, in which case you might as well go on as at present, knowing that the problem will continue or grow worse, neither of you getting ample sleep.

Let Baby Cry
You didn't really let her "cry it out." After she had cried half an hour or an hour, you petted her. Next time she hung out longer, the next time still longer, learning it was worth it.

If you really want to settle that problem do this: Put her in her crib at the regular time for the nap or night sleep. Let her cry until she wears herself out. Stay away from her. Merely be near enough to make sure she will not, in her struggles, suffocate. She may cry for three, four or five hours the first night. Let that be her privilege. If you don't surrender, she will not.

cry so long the next night, nor nearly so long the next, and so on. If, at nap time, she is still crying at the end, say, of two hours, take her up, but let her cry just as long the next day, if she chooses. I assume that you have your doctor check on this baby regularly.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

it without the slightest loss of presidential favor and friendship. This is not a straight game. It cannot be adequately explained nor defended.

YET it is typical. Though its labor ally has pulled back on practically every anti-inflationary device and is now engaged in trying to sabotage the whole wage control structure, the Administration has never uttered a word of protest. Actually, under White House pressure, army and navy officials have been obliged to commend when they wanted to condemn. An example of the refusal to be candid with the people in this business was given on Monday, when the WPB reported that steel and critical munitions, including aircraft, are seriously behind January production schedule. The WPB report blamed "manpower and fuel shortages, weather and transportation."

NOT ONE word did the WPB say about strikes, though in the same papers which printed this report there also was printed an account of the great strike in Detroit Chrysler plants, employing 100,000 men, which would mean a shocking check to war production. Nor did the WPB mention the strike in the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Gary works nor any of the other strikes in various parts of the country which are interfering with war production. Neither did it mention that last year was a record year for strikes—5,000 all told—nor that the strike threat for 1945 is more ominous than for any preceding year in our history. Strikes are rarely mentioned by Administration spokesmen.

THE POLICY is to minimize and ignore them. In the face of a record number of strikes, they persistently land the labor leaders for their phony "no-strike" pledge and insist that they have made a "great contribution" to the war. None of this is in accord with the facts. None of it is on the level. It is probably as low—and dangerous—a grade of politics as has been played in this country in a great many years. The astonishing thing is that, though it seems completely obvious, they can get away with it. Yet, perhaps, one ought not to be surprised so far as Mr. Roosevelt is concerned. So glib have the people become under his treatment that he is able to do things which would earn almost unanimous public condemnation if attempted by anyone else. The taking of Mr. Eddie Flynn, the parking-block politician, to the Yalta conference "just for the ride" is the latest sample.

Campbell And Samuels Will Head Divisions

Experienced Campaigners Named
By Chairman Kerr For Coming
Membership Rally Of YMCA

General Chairman Jesse N. Kerr has lined up two experienced workers to head the divisions in the annual membership rally for the local Y. M. C. A. In selecting Mr. Campbell and Samuels, Chairman Kerr has made certain that the teams in the annual drive shall have leadership which should insure a successful membership rally.

Both of these men have been active in the local association campaigns for many years. These two leaders will select team captains at an early date and the organization of team workers will get under way. While the entire month of March has been set as Membership Rally month, the active work by the team members will not begin until some time later in the month.

General Chairman Jesse Kerr feels that with these two experienced leaders the team organization will soon be completed and looks for a successful completion of the rally by the end of the month.

Rescuers Land In Water Too; All On One Man's Life Raft

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 2.—(INS)—Nomination for the title of "hardest guy to rescue" has been pinned on Lt. (jg) Robert Sell, 23-year-old fighter pilot from Allentown, after two attempts to fish him out of the sea off Leyte in the Philippines landed his would-be rescuers in the water with him.

After landing his own plane in the water, Sell climbed aboard his life raft and waited. First trouble shooter to arrive was another pilot but his plane wheeled out as he started down for the rescue and he found himself literally in the same boat with the stranded aviator.

Next came a patrol boat that capsized and poured its nine-man crew into the water. Finally, all 11 men were pulled out of the sea by Philippine natives.

MISS MCGUIRE IS NEW WAC RECRUIT

Miss Donna J. McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. McGuire of 410 Garfield avenue, left last Wednesday evening for the WAC training center in Des Moines, Iowa, where she will receive basic military training prior to six weeks of specialized medical training in preparation for an assignment as a technician in a military hospital, caring for returning battle casualties in connection with the extensive army program of rehabilitation.

Descended from pioneer New Castle stock, Pvt. McGuire is a graduate of Lakewood high school in Cleveland. Previous to her enlistment she was engaged in secretarial work at Camp Reynolds.

Sgt. Tommasone Gets Bronze Star

Edenburg Soldier Cited For Meritorious Conduct In Directing Artillery Against Nazis

Mrs. Grover Durfield of Edenburg has received a copy of the citation awarded her brother, Sgt. Maria Tommasone, T-4, while serving as observer for the 113th field artillery.

The citation states that Sgt. Tommasone is awarded the bronze star for meritorious conduct in Germany on October 18, 1944, when as a radio operator, he sought a strategic observation point during a severe concentration of enemy fire. He assisted in the adjustment of fire on enemy machine gun strong points, while hostile fire landed a few yards away from his position. Largely due to his unselfish devotion to duty, he was instrumental in neutralizing the enemy strong points by accurate artillery fire, permitting our troops to advance.

Japan Loses Ores Along With Islands

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(INS)—When deprived of the Philippine Islands, the Japanese stand to lose tremendous tonnages of iron, chrome ore and manganese vitally necessary in their steel industries, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute in Pittsburgh.

In 1940, Institute authorities pointed out, the Philippines exported almost two million tons of iron ore, 50,000 tons of manganese and over 74,000 tons of chrome ore. Presumably since the Japanese occupation in early 1942, tonnages approximating those of 1940 have been shipped to foundries in Japan.

The total iron ore reserves, shown in a pre-war report of the U. S. department of commerce, was estimated at around eight million tons.

Curfew Committee Formed To Check Local Violations

Enforcement Agencies Of City And County Cooperating, WMC Representative Says

To form a WMC Curfew Ruling advisory committee, seven representatives of local groups and law enforcement agencies met in the U. S. Employment Service office Thursday evening. Instead of this afternoon as previously announced, George R. Gettings, manager of the office, said this morning.

W. B. Gilliland, Burgess of New Wilmington; Glenn Martin, constable of New Wilmington; John P. Haven, mayor of New Castle; Robert Hanna, chief of police; M. M. Ingham, Lawrence county sheriff; John Grittle, representative of the Labor-Management committee; and E. O. Rainey, secretary of the local fraternal order of clubs, are the members of the newly-formed committee.

According to the decisions of the committee, police will report all violations of the new midnight curfew on entertainment places to the mayor or chief of police, who will, in turn, report to Mr. Gettings, local WMC representative. The committee will meet only as often as violations arise, to investigate them and, if necessary, to recommend sanctions to be taken against an establishment.

Other wartime agencies such as the WPB, OPA and ODI are cooperating to enforce the curfew, and an establishment which refuses to cooperate may find its manpower ceiling cut to zero, its deliveries held up, and its electric power shut off. Few offenses are anticipated, however, Mr. Gettings stated, as all local concerns have been cooperating splendidly with the order so far.

PHONE TO ROME?

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—Telephone service between New York and Rome was resumed today, thanks to a Nazi blunder, for the first time in four years.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company, announcing resumption of service—but with only press and government calls accepted for the present—said radio-telephone service would have been delayed much longer if the Nazis, before scrambling out of Rome, had not mistakenly blown up the wrong equipment.

Powerful Ninth Army Crushes Nazi Defenses

had shrouded news of the progress of the Ninth army.

Advance 15 Miles

Advances of up to 15 miles were made.

The towns of Venlo and Dülken fell to the American advance.

A German withdrawal across the Rhine in the face of the American onslaught was reported coincident with intensified action in the battle for Cologne.

The Ninth Army, by capturing Venlo, came to within 18 miles of a junction with the Canadian First Army fighting near Weeze.

The Americans of the Ninth Army cracked a formidable German defensive belt, including many trenches, between Rheindt and the Ertf river.

Some trouble was encountered by the Americans from tanks and self-propelled guns around the Neuss canal.

Other towns taken in the sweep of the Ninth included Viersen and Amrath, five and one-half miles from Muenchen-Gladbach. Ambruch in the same area was reached.

The 84th Division which captured Dülken advanced four miles beyond to Bolsheim, east of Dülken.

Cologne Opposition Mounts

German opposition in front of Cologne against American First Army forces only five to six miles from the Rhine city mounted steadily, with the enemy sending dive-bombers at the American lines.

German troop concentrations and communications points in Cologne were hit hard this morning by a very strong force of British heavy-weight bombers and planes on the American Ninth Air Force, carried out almost constant shuttle missions over the Rhineland.

Tactical pilots spotted the first signs of a German withdrawal out of the battle area being overrun by the Ninth Army to the east side of the Rhine in the early hours of this morning.

While the blackout on news of progress of the Ninth Army continued, the Germans reported an intensification of assaults by the right wing of the Ninth. The enemy said pressure was stepped up on the Greven Broich sector where the Ertf river bends toward the Rhine.

Penetrate Rulken Sector

An American penetration into the Dülken sector, north of captured Muenchen-Gladbach, was reported by the Germans who also said that the Ninth had sent a spearhead to the outskirts of Krefeld.

The First Army fanned out to the southeast into areas southwest of Cologne, advancing as much as five miles in the vicinity of Euskirchen. Stiffest encounters were fought in the ruins of Moeddrath, on the main east-west road into Cologne. Thunderbolt pilots attacking west of Cologne did not meet heavy anti-aircraft fire, indicating the Germans may have withdrawn their ack-ack batteries across the Rhine to Cologne.

Take Thousands of Prisoners

The Ninth Army, moving swiftly in the area of Düsseldorf, scooped up thousands of additional German prisoners.

The U. S. Third Army meanwhile engaged the Nazis in fierce combat inside the stronghold of Trier.

Headquarters disclosed that the Ninth had taken at least 3,000 more Nazi prisoners in the past 24 hours, bringing the total of enemy forces bagged by the Ninth since the start of the offensive aimed at the Rhine to 15,500.

The Tenth Armored Division of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army engaged in heavy fighting inside Trier, capturing a bridge intact over the Moselle river. The Americans established a bridgehead on the west side of the river.

Heavy opposition was reported coming from Volkstrum units inside Trier which was entered from several directions. The Germans used anti-aircraft batteries and dual purpose guns as anti-tank weapons.

The Ninth Army was reported by the Germans to have sent spearheads northward from Muenchen-Gladbach to the outskirts of the industrial center of Krefeld.

The American First Army hitting eastward toward Cologne from points only about five miles west of the city met stubborn German resistance east of the Ertf river.

These troops under command of Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges entered four key towns on the approaches to Cologne. Penetrations were made into Berghelm, Ichen-dorf, Horrem and Moeddrath.

Postwar Market For 60 Million Home Radios Envisaged

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(INS)—A postwar market for 60 million home radio receivers—enough to keep the industry at peak production for six years—today was anticipated by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, its stockholders' quarterly declares. The quarterly listed the expected demands for frequency modulation—FM—radio sets and the renewed popularity of radio-phonographs as two important factors that will affect strongly the postwar market.

The company plans to re-enter the home radio field, the periodical stated, with a complete line of radio and television receivers as soon as manpower and materials are available.

Fierce Battle Is Being Fought East Of Manila

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, March 2.—A battle as fierce and bitter as any in the Pacific was being fought today on a 30-mile front fifteen miles east of Manila, where for the past six days American cavalrymen and infantrymen have been halted before a minor "Magnet line."

The Jap position is believed to extend along a mountain line all the way to Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines.

General Tomoyuki Yamashita's plan for the defense of Luzon is based upon this system of strongly constructed, ingeniously camouflaged hillside caves connected by an intricate tunnel system.

Steel and concrete have been used to fortify well hidden artillery, mortar and rocket emplacements, and the entrances to many caves are cleverly concealed by close fitting doors which when closed cannot be detected at a distance of only a few feet.

Construction of this formidable defense line was begun more than a year ago, but work was speeded up when General MacArthur landed on Leyte Island last October.

Used Forced Labor
The Japs used forced labor on the work, but no civilian prisoners were allowed near the inner defense system.

The enemy is believed to have large supplies of food cached there—it's an eerie war against an unseen enemy, but the comparatively few Jap bodies recovered have been husky and well fed.

Today this correspondent visited the hillside command post of tough and hard driving Colonel Walter Finnegan, of Boston, commander of the historic, fighting Seventh Cavalry which spearheaded the First Cavalry's Leyte attack.

Colonel Finnegan's command post is a few hundred yards behind where the front line is believed to be—it is hard to be sure where it actually is, as Finnegan discovered this morning when a Jap officer and six men were killed in a concealed tunnel mouth 150 yards behind an observation post he had been using for the past four days.

"It's rough as hell," Finnegan said. "You can't see the Nips, which is annoying when they are throwing artillery, mortar and rocket fire at you."

Finnegan's drive to smash the strong Jap line is being spearheaded by a unit commanded by capable, young Lt. Col. William Nash of Haydon, Ariz., and which has been under heavy fire for six days.

"The boys have been in continuous action for 135 days and are pretty tired, but they are doing a wonderful job," Nash said.

AUTO FIRE
City firemen were called to North Mill street, in front of the Water Company, at 10:20 o'clock this morning, when backfire from the carburetor of the auto of Philip Perrotto, of 619 Morton street, set fire to oil and grease about the engine. The blaze was extinguished by Lou Klunger of the Water Company, before firemen arrived. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports.

LEAVING ITALY?
PARIS, March 2.—(INS)—A report that six German divisions are being withdrawn from Northern Italy was circulated in French newspapers today. The dispatches were datelined "on the Italian frontier."

Lewis Makes New Demands

Royalty Of Ten Cents Per Ton For Coal Mined Is Included In Demands

FEDERAL OFFICIALS SILENT ON ISSUE

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Federal stabilization officials kept silent today as Mine Chief John L. Lewis pressed his fight for wage demands which the coal operators estimated at more than $2 a day per miner.

The War Labor Board, which ultimately will have to pass on the contract, declined comment on the 18 proposals submitted by the United Mine Workers at the opening session of the joint wage conference.

If the size and shape of Lewis' demands surprised administration leaders, so did the absence of any slam-bang attack on the "Little Steel" formula and the mine chief's meek announcement.

"The UMW has an intense desire to present and have a program that is within the limitation of the present policy of government. In our best judgment, the proposals conformed to anti-inflation policies."

On another score Lewis was not so mild. He bluntly suggested that "government interference be kept to an irreducible minimum."

Over $2 Per Day Man
Charles O'Neil, of Altoona, Pa. president of the central Pennsylvania coal producers, estimated that the union's demands total "well over $2 a day per man."

"I stopped figuring at that point," he commented.
The miners' principal proposal called for retention of the present nine hour portal-to-portal day, but with time and one half pay for all work in excess of seven hours daily or 35 hours a week. Lewis went to an eight hour day and a 40-hour week in 1943.

Union sources claimed the new schedule would be worth about $1 more a day, while the operators said it would be much higher. It includes full payment for travel time as work time, an issue upon which the supreme court is expected to rule soon.

The most dramatic of Lewis' demands was the request for a "participating royalty" on coal. He demanded ten cents per ton of coal.

The money, estimated at approximately sixty million dollars annually, would be paid into the union treasury for medical care, hospitalization, insurance, rehabilitation and economic protection of its half-million members.

"The miners are entitled to insurance and protection like other citizens," Lewis said. "They can't get it now because the old-line insurance companies won't take the risk or, when they do, they limit the insurance and make the rate prohibitive."

The miners also demanded a second shift differential of 10 cents per hour and 15 cents on the third shift; an increase in the vacation payments from $50 to $100; payment for explosives and safety equipment by the operators; improvement of sub-standard housing conditions in mining towns by joint effort of both sides.

The union proposed that the contract be terminated by 30 days advance notice from either party; this is in line with the ideas of the operators who desire an agreement which can be quickly cancelled and rewritten at the end of the war.

Chicken Thief Proves To Be Possum

Following chicken thefts which occurred frequently at the "henery" on the Love place Harbor vicinity, R. D. 2, State Police conducted an investigation and shot the "thief" to death at midnight last night. The said "thief" being none other than a big possum, the state police reported today.

TO GET WEB DECK
The county commissioners have been assured by a representative of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation that the steel web for the deck of the West Washington street bridge can be supplied, probably by May 1. A representative was in New Castle Thursday and examined the bridge and agreed with the commissioners that the new deck was needed.

With the steel web deck installed the troubles of the bridge should be over for a time. This bridge has been repaired, remodelled and had its face lifted a couple of times and just now the deck is something like a spot hit by a bomb.

The steel web is safe, and never has ice or rain lying on it. Bids will be asked for the installation of the webbing, and sometime this summer the work should be done.

Over $2 Per Day Man
Charles O'Neil, of Altoona, Pa. president of the central Pennsylvania coal producers, estimated that the union's demands total "well over $2 a day per man."

"I stopped figuring at that point," he commented.

The miners' principal proposal called for retention of the present nine hour portal-to-portal day, but with time and one half pay for all work in excess of seven hours daily or 35 hours a week. Lewis went to an eight hour day and a 40-hour week in 1943.

Union sources claimed the new schedule would be worth about $1 more a day, while the operators said it would be much higher. It includes full payment for travel time as work time, an issue upon which the supreme court is expected to rule soon.

The most dramatic of Lewis' demands was the request for a "participating royalty" on coal. He demanded ten cents per ton of coal.

The money, estimated at approximately sixty million dollars annually, would be paid into the union treasury for medical care, hospitalization, insurance, rehabilitation and economic protection of its half-million members.

"The miners are entitled to insurance and protection like other citizens," Lewis said. "They can't get it now because the old-line insurance companies won't take the risk or, when they do, they limit the insurance and make the rate prohibitive."

The miners also demanded a second shift differential of 10 cents per hour and 15 cents on the third shift; an increase in the vacation payments from $50 to $100; payment for explosives and safety equipment by the operators; improvement of sub-standard housing conditions in mining towns by joint effort of both sides.

The union proposed that the contract be terminated by 30 days advance notice from either party; this is in line with the ideas of the operators who desire an agreement which can be quickly cancelled and rewritten at the end of the war.

SHIPPENSBURG MAKES RECORD

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 2.—(INS)—Residents of Shippensburg, Pa., were commended today for topping their 1945 Red Cross war fund campaign goal of $11,500 on the second day of the drive.

Ramone Eaton, manager of the eastern area headquarters of the Red Cross, announced that the Shippensburg chapter in Cumberland county had raised $11,600 to preserve its record of being the first chapter to go over the top in each Red Cross war fund campaign in Pennsylvania since Pearl Harbor.

Eaton added that Frank Currens, chapter chairman, and Errol F. Snook, war fund chairman, were instrumental in the chapter's success in raising $100 in excess of its quota in 48 hours.

Falls Cause Death Of Three Persons In Fayette County

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 2.—(INS)—Falls during January contributed to the death of three Fayette county persons, one an 18-month-old child, county officials today announced.

The infant, Thomas Sprout, suffered a broken neck when he toppled from a high chair at the home of his parents near Dunbar. Sadie Miller, 79, and William H. Rutter, 85, were the other victims, the officials said.

Letters From Prisoner Of War In Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is another in a series of "letters from a prisoner of war," written from a German prison camp by INS War Correspondent Lowell Bennett, who was captured by the Nazis after he was shot down during an RAF raid on Berlin.)

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

Prisoners of war in this camp have set up a provisional wing and have broken it down into groups and squadrons. It's the first time it's ever been done.

The idea behind it is to keep the men here in good shape, morally and physically, and to help prepare them for the bigger job of being good citizens in the post-war world.

It will help the war department when we're evacuated from here and records are being kept of activities and personalities.

The idea originated with Col. Jean R. Byrly of 322 W. Magnolia St., Fort Collins, Colo., who is the senior Allied officer here and commander of the wing.

There are four more-than-full groups, with Col. Henry R. Spicer of 1282 Hollywood Blvd., Los Angeles, as group 1 commander.

Wing chief of staff is Lt. Col. Mark E. Hubbard of 620 Asbury St., St. Paul, Minn. Lt. Col. Loren G. McCollom of 116 Jefferson St., Hoquiam, Wash., as A-2 and A-3 chief.

Capt. Milton W. Zahn of Wausau Wis., a wing adjutant, and Bennett is wing public relations chief.

The camp is run just as much like a regular army post as possible. Magnificent morale and good Americans prove the idea's value.

Malta Defender Speaks Sunday

General Dobbie Of Much
Bombed Malta Island
Coming To City

LT. GEN. SIR WM. G. S. DOBBIE

Lt. Gen. Sir William G. S. Dobbie, G. C. M. G. K. C. B., D. S. O., LL. D., famed defender of the heroic island of Malta, will speak at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Sunday evening, March 4, at 7:30 p. m. on the topic "God's Hand in Malta".

Since his retirement from Malta, General Dobbie has been speaking at large interdenominational Christian gatherings throughout Great Britain and is at present making a coast-to-coast tour of principal cities of the United States and Canada under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

He will appear in New Castle under the auspices of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Over 2,300 Bombings

It is General Dobbie who is credited with keeping the key Mediterranean garrison of Malta out of Axis hands during the critical months of 1942. From the time the General was appointed governor and commander-in-chief of Malta in April 1940 until May 1942 when his physical condition forced him to retire, he and his household survived about 2,300 bombings.

Both General Dobbie and Lady Dobbie come from Plymouth Brethren families, well known in Britain for their piety. During the heaviest bombings on Malta, General Dobbie continued to conduct prayer meetings daily and Bible classes for his officers and men.

On his arrival home from Malta in 1942, the Knight Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George order was conferred on the General by King George VI. He was created a Knight Commander of the Bath by the King in 1941.

General Dobbie was born in 1879 in Madras, India, the son of a British colonial official.

During all of World War I he served in France and Belgium, first as regimental officer and later on the British General staff under Haig. It was he who on November 11, 1918, issued the order for the British Armies to cease firing.

After service with the Army of Occupation in Germany, he was assigned to duties in Egypt, Palestine, and Malaya.

In 1939 he retired but offered his services to his country when World War II broke out and was appointed to Malta during two years when the eyes of the world were focused on that island.

State Asks Counties To Take Patients Who Are 'Harmless' Cases

Jammed Mental Hospitals Can Handle Only Emergency Cases,
Mental Health Director Says

HARRISBURG, March 2.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 20 pack-jammed mental hospitals prompted the welfare department's appeal today to county institution officials to accept "a selected harmless patient" for each emergency case admitted to state establishments.

"A survey discloses that in the infirmaries of county institution districts approximately 3000 beds are not now in use," said Hilding Bengs, assistant mental health director.

He pointed out that admissions to some hospitals had been postponed as much as two years in the past and that only "emergency" cases were being accepted.

A "drastic step" was necessary, Bengs said, to prevent a breakdown of essential services and to assure room for emergency cases.

"In order to create a vacant bed for such patients," he asks, "county institution officials in a letter, 'will you please adopt a policy of accepting in exchange in your infirmary a selected harmless or infirm patient from your district in each instance where the mental hospital accepts a patient requiring emergency care'."

Continuation of admissions as in the past, Bengs said, would "jeopardize the safety and health of patients."

British housewives are to be rationed more household linen to meet present needs.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

COLOGNE

(By International News Service)

Founded in 50 A. D. by the Roman Emperor Claudius, Cologne—queen city of the Rhine and third city of the German Reich—rose to great heights of fame and power in its early centuries, fell into decay in the late 1700's and then flourished anew after the Congress of Vienna assigned the city to Prussia in 1815.

Wars are nothing new to this historic city, which lies on the left bank of the Rhine astride the great natural highway from Paris into Germany. Throughout the centuries it has been captured and recaptured, and at various times under control of either France or Germany. It is a great Rhine port and in recent years a key communications center for both railroads and highways.

Its founders realized its importance as a frontier city and fortified it immediately. However, in the early 1880's the medieval walls and ditches were dismantled because of the city's growth and new fortifications were installed in a vast semi-circle. Its peacetime population was in excess of three quarters of a million.

Jimmy Dunn, Fiancee, Take Out Licenses In Two Cities 'In Case'

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—Twentieth-Century-Fox star James Dunn and Edna Rush, a non-professional, today were expected to be married soon in either Philadelphia or Pittsburgh.

Miss Rush is a native of Philadelphia and they would like to be married there, the actor explained. However, he is due to arrive in Pittsburgh this week for the opening of Betty Smith's "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and the couple have taken out a marriage license in both Pennsylvania cities "just in case."

Dunn, who plays the role of Johnny Nolan in the new film, was in New York today for the premiere.

Prima Donna Charged With Swiping Points

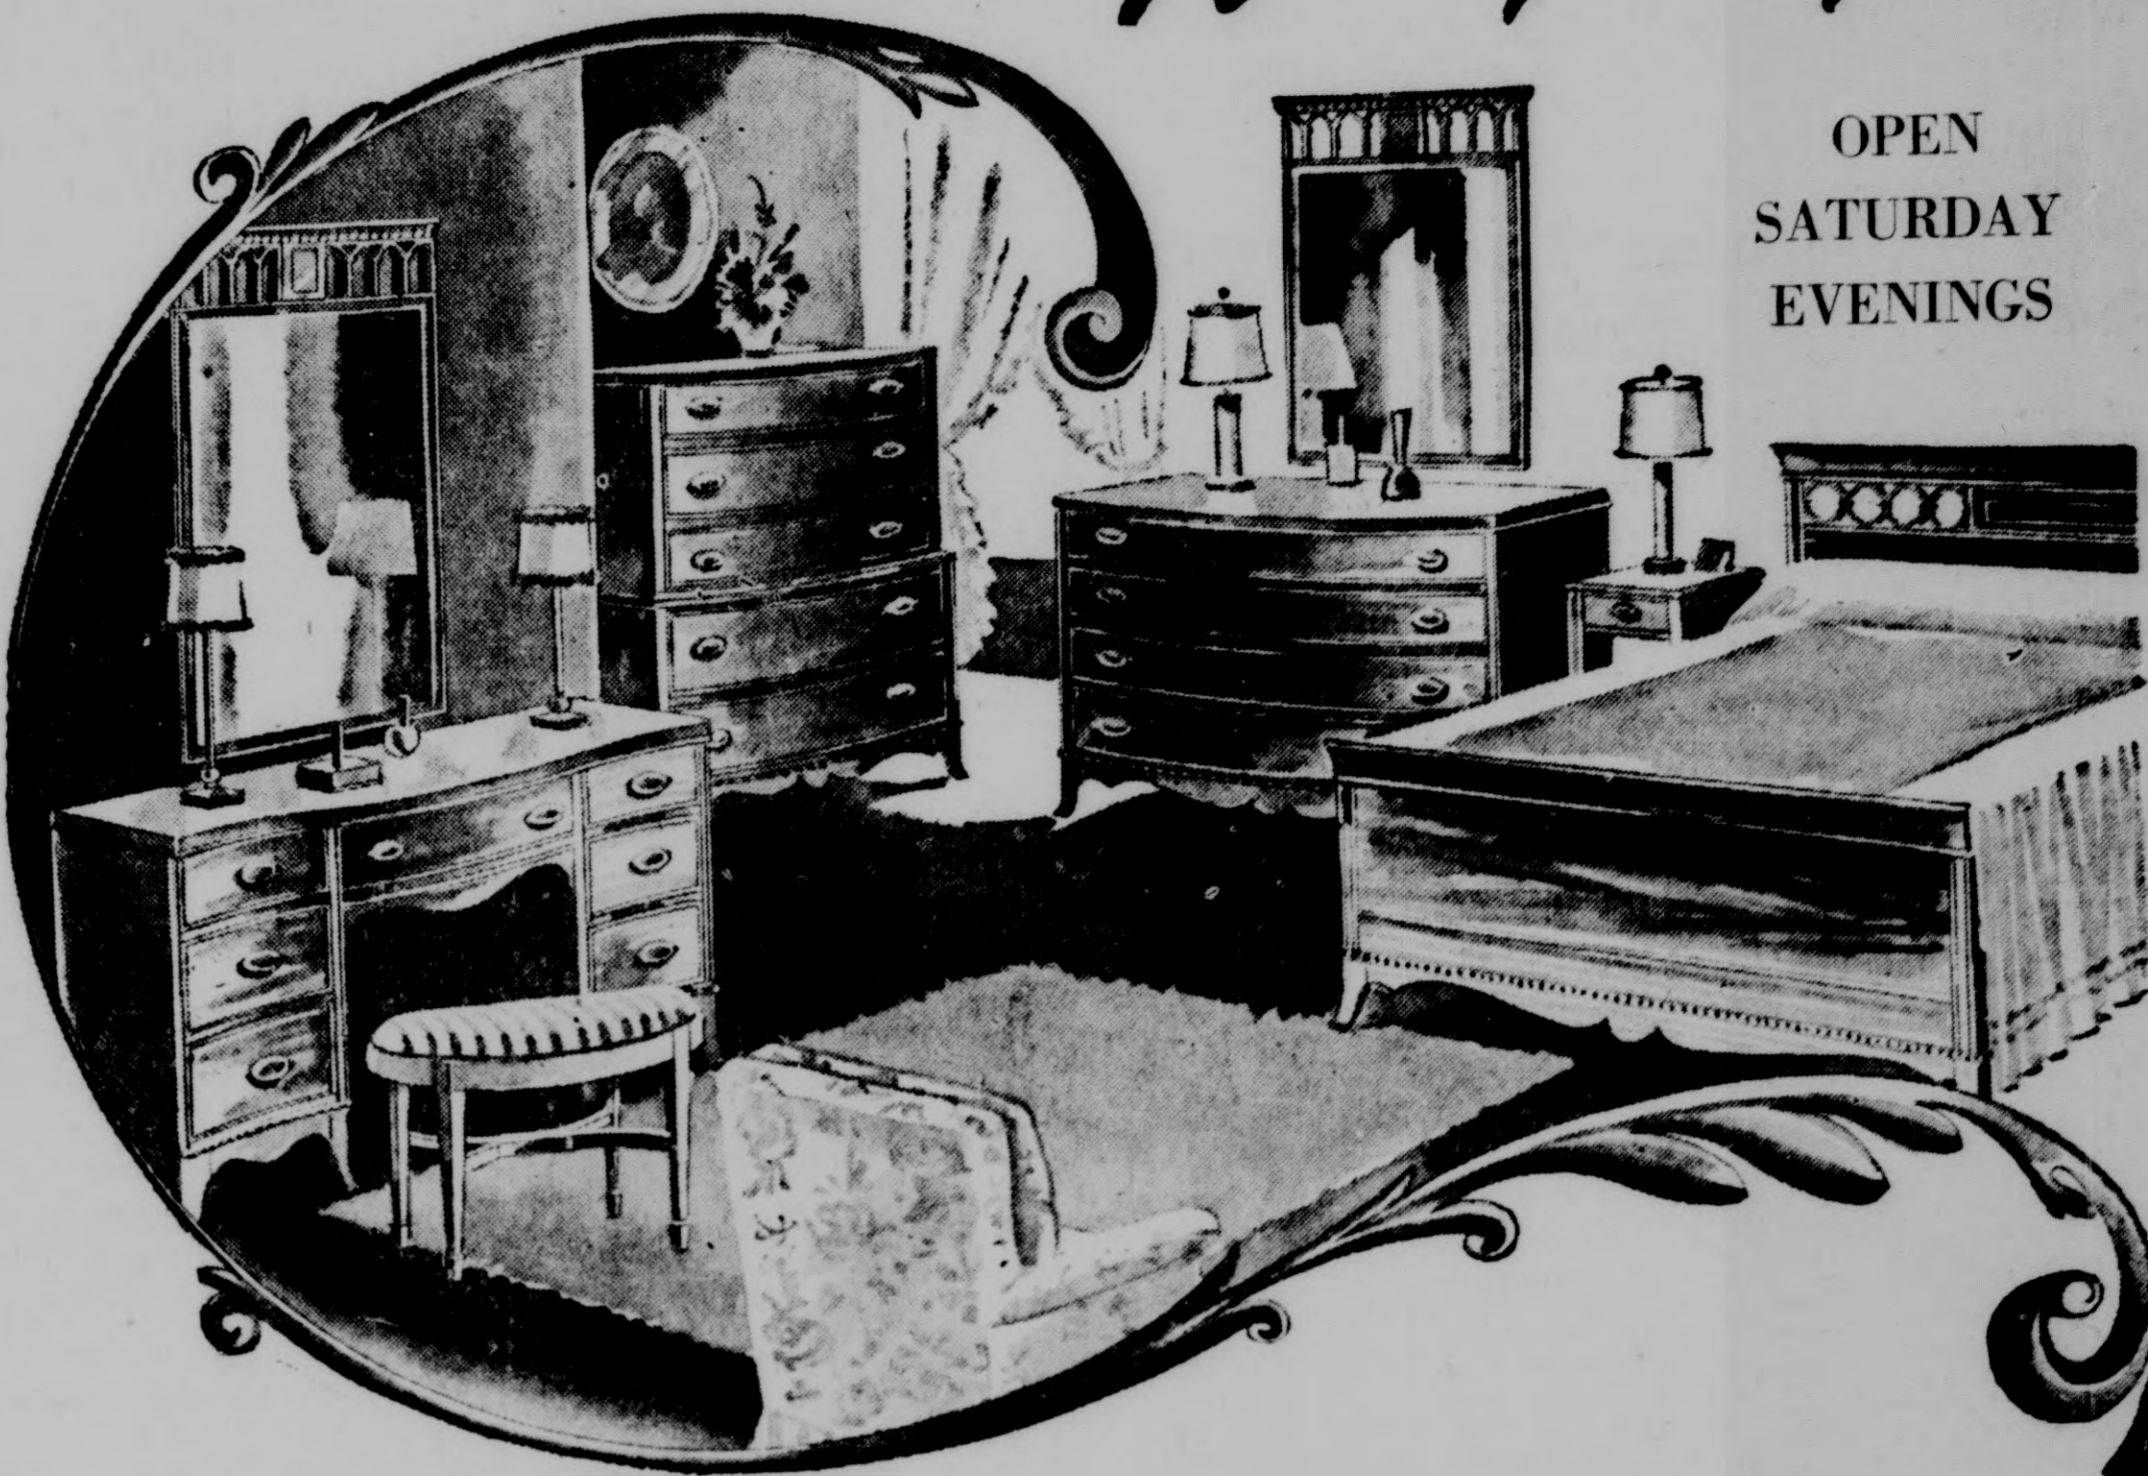

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—Mme. Frances Alda, former star of the Metropolitan Opera, was ordered to make a debut in court today on a charge that she had snatched 300 red ration points from her cook.

Mrs. Barbara Neill, who served as cook in the diva's home for about a month, made the complaint, charging that when she went to work for Mme. Alda she was asked to surrender her ration book while eating on the premises. Later, she said, when she left the job her ration book came back minus all the red stamps.

The story inspired Magistrate Frederick L. Strong to issue a summons to Mme. Alda to appear today on a charge of larceny.

Early Invasion Of Japan Possible

Vice Admiral McCain Of Second Carrier Force Discusses Situation

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 2.—(INS)—The possible early invasion of Japan was envisaged today by Vice Admiral John Sidney McCain, commander of the second carrier task force that did much of the spadework for MacArthur's reconquest of the Philippines.

Admiral McCain, back in the United States for a rest, touched upon the subject briefly but pointedly during a news conference. The Japs, he said, may crack and their homeland be invaded sooner than many expect.

He pointed out that Japan's wartime empire already had been cut in two by American naval and air power. However, he fixed no date for the invasion of Japan.

Wrecked Havoc
Admiral McCain's carrier task force wrecked havoc on Japanese sea and air strength in Hongkong, Formosa and the Philippines in the process of softening up Japan for MacArthur's return to the Philippines.

Planes from the task force destroyed 2962 aircraft and sank, probably sank or damaged 101 warships, 292 merchant ships and 298 small craft, for a total of 1,162,000 tons. During the battle of Leyte Gulf the admiral's carrier force steamed up from the south to help drive off a Jap armada of battleships and cruisers that had come out of San Bernardino Strait and was threatening to wipe out an American escort carrier force.

Of the Philippine invasion the admiral said:
"For two days and two nights starting Dec. 16 we kept a cover of 600 fighter planes over Luzon. This force crippled land-based enemy aircraft, destroyed shipping and military installations and aided materially in later blows which were to overrun Luzon and Manila."
Admiral McCain described the Jap soldier as "inhuman and subhuman" and added that "none I have ever seen deserved to live."

Broaden Scope Of Recreation Center

Monday Night Set Aside For Persons Up To 21 Mayor Haven Reports

There are many young folk, "well up in their teens", around 16, 18, 21 years of age, who do not belong to any organization, hence when they desire clean and wholesome recreation find it difficult to find. Mayor John F. Haven announces that they can spend their evenings every Monday at the Recreation center, city hall, for 25 cents.

The mayor pointed out that, according to the schedule at the Recreation center, every night is taken up by some organization—which leaves out of consideration young people who do not possess a membership in those organizations. He believes, that they too, are entitled to recreational consideration, hence the setting aside of Monday night for them.

Many young men and women accompany parents downtown Monday nights, therefore the Recreation center will be a place for them to go and enjoy beneficial pursuits. However, this should not be construed as meaning it will be a "children's night" because it will not. It is for the young folk farther advanced toward 21, or slightly over. In fact there would be no objection should some of the "oldsters" trip the light fantastic at the same time as their children when they call for them.

Cheddar cheese was introduced into the United States by early British settlers.

Industries Reveal Wartime Growth Of Philadelphia Area

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—The rapid wartime growth of Philadelphia is evidenced by the fact that today there are ten industrial establishments in the greater Philadelphia area employing more than 10,000 workers whereas there was not a single private or government concern employing that many in 1939, according to the Chamber of Commerce.

Leading the ten is the Philadelphia navy yard with more than 50,000 employees, it was reported.

Companies with an average of 1,000 workers have increased from 50 to 71 since 1939 with Montgomery county showing the largest gain in firms of that class. Most of the super-sized war plants are in Philadelphia county but Delaware leads all others in the proportionate increase in number of workers employed, the Chamber of Commerce stated.

Lake Erie Ice Fishing Is Most Rugged Sport

(Exclusive, Central Press Dispatch)
SANDUSKY, O., March 2.—The frozen surface of Lake Erie in this area of Ohio's lake vacationland is today dotted with the shacks of hundreds of ice fishermen as the winter fishing season swings into full stride.

Ice fishermen, who occupy the little colonies of shacks on Sandusky Bay, the Portage, Huron and Vermilion rivers, report one of the best seasons in the history of this picturesque and historic sport.

Under a layer of ice from seven to 18 inches thick, the perch, pike and pickerel are running heavy and an occasional sturgeon gives the sport added zest.

"Shantytowns" the folks of the lake region of northwestern Ohio call the colonies of shanties that the ice fishermen haul out onto the frozen reaches of the lake at this time of year.

This year the ice fishing is so good that besides the shantytowns listed above there are others on the ice off Port Clinton, Vermilion, Huron, Danbury, Bay Bridge and Put-In-Bay and Kelley's Island.

Although the big catches this year have enabled some ice fishermen, and fishermen, too, to sell part of their haul, the sport is almost purely one for relaxation and somewhat chilly enjoyment.

"As a result you will find in the picturesque shanties, bent over holes in the ice and waiting patiently for a "bite," a cross section of Ohio people.

In the shanties you find bankers and war workers, clerks and executives, housewives and winter sports enthusiasts and some of the fishermen who will whip the same waters hereabouts next summer at the end of a rod and reel.

The hundreds of shanties spread out over the ice follow no set pattern of construction.

For the most part they are about four by five or six feet square and about six feet high built on sled runners so they may be pulled over the ice.

A wooden frame is generally covered with old planking or waterproof canvas or corrugated iron sheets. A door and a window are provided and a coal or oil stove and two wooden box seats are standard equipment.

The stove is usually homemade with an old ice cream tin or some such receptacle serving as the outer shell.

Some live in style—Some shanties, of course, are de luxe. They are prefabricated collapsible and portable and have a fancy stove. They are known hereabouts as "the covered wagon style."

The average shanty represents an investment of a couple of dollars plus labor while the de luxe jobs cost up to $50.

Equipment of the ice fisherman includes a chisel-point bar for digging a hole through the ice, a short pole, heavy line and minnows—either alive or canned—and a frying pan in which to cook the catch on the shanty stove.

Many of the fishermen also make it a practice to take with them on their all-day, and sometimes all-night, fishing parties a bottle of frost bite remedy. This is the same remedy that is used in the summer for snake bite.

The fishermen haul their shanties around in much the same fashion they move their rowboats in the summer in search of good fishing.

Often when a good catch is made it starts a stampede of shanty owners to the general direction where the big one was pulled in through the ice. For fish move in schools under the ice in search of food just as they move in summer waters.

Fishermen in the shanties can see far down into the clear cold water and watch a fish either pass their hook and bait or gobble them up.

There are certain ethics among the cult of ice fishermen and woe unto him who fails to observe them. Chief pest and most despised is the amateur who indiscriminately chops wide holes in the ice in numerous places and abandons them. These holes, covered shortly with a thin layer of ice, are a source of grave danger to persons walking on the frozen lake.

Never before has the sport been as popular as this year. In fact shanties are now rented at Put-In-Bay and Kelley's Island and special airplane service from Port Clinton flies ice fishermen to the islands twice daily to enjoy the sport.

It's rugged and chilly—but they love it.

March Check-Up Marks Full Year Of Price Surveys

Members of the staff of the local Price Panel Board are veterans of a full year of checking and surveying, this month, the board announced this morning.

The first ceiling price compliance survey was made in March, 1944, and in observance of that check-up, a concentrated survey with additional volunteers working with the staff members, will be made during the first part of this month.

Grocers who are found in violation, and who were also not complying last March, will be given license warnings, and if they continue their non-compliance, their licenses will be revoked, according to the announcement.

"A full year of warning is more than enough," the board stated. "Prices must be kept down, and posting requirements must be met."

Fifty-three violations were reported during the recently completed February survey of grocers. Failures to label meats according to grades made up the biggest part of the non-compliance list.

A new requirement for restaurants is the posting of prices of beer and other alcoholic beverages sold on the premises, the announcement continued.

Wallace Takes Cabinet Place

Becomes Secretary Of Commerce After Being Given Senate Approval

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The big political question in Washington today, following the confirmation of Henry A. Wallace as secretary of commerce, is whether President Roosevelt will retain Jesse Jones to head the multi-billion dollar Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Wallace took the oath of office at the Commerce Department, with Justice Hugo Black of the United States Supreme Court, officiating.

The former vice president won approval of the senate yesterday by a vote of 56 to 32, after both houses of congress had shorn the vital federal lending agencies from the cabinet post.

It is considered doubtful that Mr. Roosevelt will continue Jones as a member of his official family because of Jones' refusal to accept a diplomatic post abroad, or act as reconstruction czar for either Italy or France.

Prominently Mentioned
Jones, in a biting response to President Roosevelt's request for his resignation from the cabinet, declared "I seek no job."

Four names are mentioned prominently as contenders for the RFC lending post.

Henry J. Kaiser has been named in widely published reports as the favorite choice of Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and Presidential adviser Judge Samuel I. Rosenman.

Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson is said to be the choice of War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes, and Leo T. Crowley, director of the Foreign Economic Administration, is an oft-mentioned possibility.

A dark horse in the race to be Jones' successor is Donald M. Nelson, former chairman of the War Production Board, and in recent months a special emissary for President Roosevelt on mission to strengthen the Chinese economy for war.

Army Recruiting Personnel Changes

Lt. C. Osborne Hutton Will Be Aided
By Two Air Corps Men And
Two Women From W.A.C.

During the last two weeks, a complete change in personnel has occurred at the U. S. army recruiting office in the New Castle post office. Yesterday Sgt. Jeannette Sheets and Cpl. Louise J. Medallie arrived in New Castle from New Kensington to assume duties in connection with the enlistment of women for the medical department of the army.

Sgt. Sheets and Cpl. Medallie claim Cleveland and Chicago respectively as their home.

Assisting in the recruiting are T-3 Byron L. Heffner of Lima, O., formerly with the glider division of the ninth air force in England, and Sgt. Kenneth W. Foster of Grand Rapids, Mich., a former waist-gunner on a B-17 of the 15th air force before being shot down over Jugoslavia last spring. Both men have been in service considerably more than two years.

In command of the station is First Lt. C. Osborne Hutton of the coast artillery (anti-aircraft), who entered the service in 1940 as a private with the 209th CA (AA), a National Guard regiment from Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y. Prior to his assignment to recruiting activities at the deactivation of numerous anti-aircraft outfits last fall, Lt. Hutton specialized in searchlights and radar; his duties included sergeant, chief of section, supply sergeant, intelligence officer and battery commander. A graduate of Mount Union college and Syracuse university, he was an English instructor and athletic coach in private and night schools in western New York for ten years before active military duty.

The personnel previously assigned to the station have been transferred to other recruiting duties in the district. First Lt. Jo Ann Strike-man, W.A.C., is now located with the Pittsburgh unit. Cpl. Anna L. Kinnen is in Beaver Falls; Col. Mary E. Pomeroy is in New Kensington.

Why scold congressmen who join the Army or Navy for a few months? It wouldn't hurt all of them to get a little first-hand knowledge of war.

Amish Are Sent For Examination

Among those who were recently sent to the Pittsburgh induction center for examination by County Board Two of the Selective Service System were 14 men of the Amish sect in Lawrence county, it became known today.

About half the number sent for examination passed the physical requirements for army service. Their status is to be reviewed by the local board later.

There are none from this class now in any kind of service who are registered by County Board Two, it is stated. Those who have been called previously have been deferred because of their occupation of farming, or have failed to pass the necessary physical requirements.

Under the recent order to examine all men under 26 years of age, regardless of their occupation, these men are being called up now, and more will be examined this month, it is stated.

Estimate 7,000 Tons Of Bombs Hit Reich Today

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, March 2.—An estimated 7,000 tons of bombs exploded today among Nazi military depots and communication arteries behind the eastern and western fronts, including Cologne, in a gigantic Allied aerial assault which observers hailed as the heaviest bombardment of the entire war.
At least 2,650 planes of the RAF and the U. S. Air Force carried out the attacks up to late afternoon. These forces said, simultaneously tactical warplanes streaked over the fighting fronts, unleashing a great offensive of their own in support of the advancing U. S. First, Third and Ninth armies.
It was the 18th consecutive day of assault for the bleeding Reich.

Mike Jacobs Says Days Of Spenders Are Gone Forever

Mike Asking $12.00 Per Ticket For Ringsides Tonight To Williams-Joyce Bout

RECALLS OLD DAYS WHEN MONEY FLOWED

By PAT ROBINSON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 2.—You may think this is the age of the royal spender when you note Mike Jacobs charging $12 a copy to see two preliminary bouts—Mike Williams and Willie Joyce—fight in the Garden tonight.

You feel assured of it when you hear him talk about a two million dollar gate. "Yeh, and it may go three million," for a bout between Joe Louis and Billy Conn with ringsides selling for $100 each which is an all-time high for a fight duet.

But Mike shorts at any such idea. "We ain't got the spenders we used to have," said Mike, with just a tinge of regret. You think I'm getting heavy sugar for seats now? Phooey. I remember 30-35 years ago when a box for the horse show which ran only a week used to bring $2,500. Yeh, and two arena seats, ordinarily worth five bucks apiece would bring $500.

Recalls Old Days

As you perhaps know, Mike made his first million as a ticket scalper and he still finds his greatest pleasure recalling some of the prices he used to get.

"You think a hundred bucks is stiff for a heavyweight title fight?" he asked with some belligerence. "That's nothing. I remember 25 years ago when Flo Ziegfeld was charging 'em $22 for a foibles wow but little Michael was getting $100 for the same seat."

Mike grinned in happy remembrance. "And I can remember lots of times getting $5,000 for a season's subscription to the Metropolitan opera. That means the big spenders were laying out five grand for two seats to 23 performances and they weren't box seats at that."

Mike chuckled. "Know what those seats cost me? Just $230—and I get $5,000 for them!"

Knows Big Spenders

"Fellows like Diamond Jim Brady used to call me up sometimes at 6 o'clock and want 20 or 30 seats to a bit show or a big fight in the old Garden and they never questioned the price. The sky was the limit. Mike paused thoughtfully. "It was, too," he added.

Those big spenders seemed to disappear all at once and their like was not seen again until the prohibition era when the big bootleggers tossed their dough around with a lavish hand. One of them bought Mike a big block of ringside seats from Mike to the Flippo-Dempsey fight and $200 each for them. But even in the old days before the last war big spenders thought nothing of laying out $200 for 25 seats to see fighters like Jess Willard in the old Garden.

Mike has a novel explanation for the high prices he charges for fights. "You see," he explained, "a bit show may run for months or years. If you don't see it tonight, you can see it some other time. But each fight is a one-night stand—a brand new production—each time and we have to get the hay while the getting is good. See?"

We saw.

NATION'S TOP SERVICE CAGER HAS 924 POINTS

NEW YORK, March 2.—Gale Bishop, the nation's highest scoring service basketball player, continued to bombard the basket from all angles last week boosting his season mark to 924 points.

The tall Fort Lewis (Washington) private, a former Washington State star, added 96 points last week to his 127 of the previous week for a two-week spurge of 223 points. Altogether he has tossed in 386 field goals and 152 free throws in 39 games to hold a commanding lead of 261 points over Don Barksdale of Camp Ross, Calif.

Barksdale has found the nets for 268 field goals and 127 fouls in 31 games for 663 points and in turn, holds a comfortable lead over Sam Patton, of Camp Patrick Henry, at 572 points.

Among the top scorers was Stan Szukala of the Valley Forge hospital team, who held 12th place with 211 field goals and 49 fouls for 471 points in 34 games.

VALIENT FIGHT BY GREYHOUND QUINTET IN VAIN THURSDAY

Wilmington 13 to 12 found the Avalonites still in front 27 to 24. Shafter's swell performance in the third session tied the count twice for New Wilmington.

Avalon was still having a hard time to shake these rampaging Greyhounds. New Wilmington born of desperation against their more experienced foes never gave up they were hanging on doggedly.

Terrific Fourth Period

The fourth period was terrific all the way. To begin with the Avalon team got the ball at the start of the session, started to "freeze it," and the Greyhounds were a little bewildered by the unorthodox freezing of the ball so soon, with only a three point lead. But, it didn't take long for the New Wilmington boys to realize that waiting would do no good, so they proceeded to break it up, by rushing the Avalon players. A foul by Shafter and a field goal by Connelly gave New Wilmington hope at 27 to 26 then Shafter put New Wilmington into the lead at 28 to 27 with a field goal.

With three minutes to play and the score in New Wilmington's favor 28 to 27 Connelly gave Avalon the lead again at 29 to 28. Avalon was headed from here in. With a minute and 22 seconds left New Wilmington trailed 32 to 29. Mewhirer took control at this point, dumped in a field goal and foul and Connelly made a foul and the game was over. Experience was winner over a team that was willing to mix it.

New Wilmington had 14 out of 18, while Avalon had 13 out of 17, both sides missing but four fouls.

The things our fighting men wear don't make front page headlines. But clothing has played an increasingly important part in the nation's war effort.

Stop to think about it and it's plain that there's nothing more important to the health, comfort and safety of our boys in the service than the clothing Uncle Sam provides.

So if you aren't one of the millions of Americans fortunate enough to own all the clothes you really need, we're sure you'll understand why the variety we can show today is more limited than it used to be.

But this we promise you. If we have a suit in your size, we will fit it as carefully as always. If we have your size in a Kuppenheimer count yourself lucky! Kuppenheimer clothes today are the finest in their 68 years.
